Developer Versatile Media

We're looking for a full-time Full-Stack Developer to join our OnPoint products team.

We are looking for someone who gets excited about using technology to craft impactful solutions. You'll use web standards and best practices to create robust and scalable custom applications; you don't believe in band-aid solutions.

We're not going to tell you what to do – we're counting on you to figure out the real problem and how to solve it. We need someone that's not afraid to ask questions or pipe up with new ideas.

You'll be building out and architecting our OnPoint Suite with skills ranging in Python, Django, VueJS and Redis. You'll need to be confident in your development practices as well as your troubleshooting and debugging skills. You will work closely with our infrastructure team, so you should have a strong understanding of modern DevOps.
